Programme Highlights

The course will provide you an opportunity to:

- recognise/identify key language competencies;
- address issues of validity and reliability in designing tests for the language classroom;
- critique examples of language tests used in the classroom;
- develop and refine contextualised test items;
- plan and conduct a validation of the designed test;
- evaluate the outcomes of your test validation exercise;
- suggest ways to improve the quality of language tests; and
- reflect on and synthesise your understanding of the language competency assessment process.
