20.0 SPACE REQUIREMENTS

20.1 Space requirements for students, faculty and staff should be projected for the short, medium and long terms. This is necessary to avoid a reactive situation caused by inadequate planning when, due to a surge in enrolment; the University finds itself in a quandary to provide the additional space needed on short notice.

20.1.1 No new programme should be launched unless space availability (classroom / laboratory / computer lab etc.) is confirmed in line with CUE standards.

20.1.2 Consider sharing of space between academic units as per timetable of courses.

23.0 BUDGET AND FINANCE

23.2 Academic Senate will review the recommendations of Curricula Development and Review Committee and then take an informed decision whether to endorse the programme or not. In any case, any approval granted for a new programme offering is for an initial period of three years and then re-evaluated in the light of experience. Senate may then decide to continue with the programme or to discontinue it.

23.3 Resource Implications

23.3.1 The general assumptions upon which the programme costs, including personnel cost, are based should be realistic, carefully examined, and appropriately clarified. The budget should take into account the following needs:

- Additional faculty: Any honoraria or other remuneration to be paid to visiting faculty, internal and external to the country, should be in line with prevailing rates
- Additional staff
- Additional space
- Additional equipment
- Additional furniture and fixtures
- Additional learning resources e.g. library books, subscriptions to magazines/journals, subscription to databases etc.
- Additional administrative expenses e.g. communication, photocopying, printing, stationery, utility, transportation, etc.
- Additional infrastructure costs e.g. new construction, new utility lines, new network cable lines, etc.

23.4 Tuition Fees

23.4.1 The rationale for the fee structure or payment of a stipend should be sufficiently justified. Offering of fellowships/ teaching assistantships.

23.5 Other

23.5.1 Other resource implications such as IT, Library, Registrar's Office, Student Affairs, Hostels, etc.

24.0 RESEARCH: THESIS / DISSERTATION / PROJECT

24.1 Ensure that the scope and duration of the students' thesis are manageable within the prescribed timeframe and resources.

24.2 Students should not be geographically restricted in their research if conducted within budgetary constraints.

24.3 It is the responsibility of developers of the graduate programmes to ensure that there is adequate provision for students' research costs in the total programme cost if the research is part of the University's obligation.

25.0 SPECIAL FEATURES

25.1 To be noted if any. For example, travel, field trips etc.

26.0 GENERAL INFORMATION

27.0 CRITERIA FOR SELECTION OF FACULTY TO TEACH IN THE PROGRAMME

27.1 The criteria should be linked to the policy on the 'Requirements for Designation of Graduate Faculty'. It is not good practice to have faculty with Master's level qualification in a discipline, especially lead faculty, to teach in a Master's programme in that discipline. Possibility of engaging visiting faculty should be considered to help lessen the workload of AKU faculty members; it also gives an opportunity to expose the student to diverse points of view.

28.0 SUSTAINABILITY OF THE PROGRAMME

28.1 State the minimum number of students to be enrolled in a course if it is to be offered. State also the proposed cohort size.

28.2 State the conditions/ circumstances under which the programme will not be offered (e.g. non-availability of specialised faculty, stoppage of funding).

29.0 CONCLUSION / ACTION REQUESTED

29.1 State unambiguously the scope of approval required.

30.0 AUTHORS

30.1 The names of the authors of the proposal should be clearly stated and the proposal dated.
